

HOME @ LEARNING

Issue 3 - 24th April 2020

Welcome Back

Welcome to the Summer term and Edition 3 of Home Learning. We have some updates and some new ideas and challenges for you. This week saw the launch of home learning activities from BBC Bitesize and a group of teachers across the country have set up an online school called Oak National Academy with daily lessons. Our teachers will be looking at these and incorporating some lessons and ideas into their planning.

Keep Reading

We hope that all the children are still reading regularly. Obviously you may have finished all your books at home so there is a big selection of e-books online.

To help you navigate this we have created a new website called Raglan Reads with many links to different websites that offer online books. It also has some authors reading extracts from their books and we have also added some special features such as Millionaire's Row listing all the junior pupils who have read a million words!!

MyOn is a website of online books linked to Accelerated Reader and all junior pupils have access to this. The good news is that it has been made a free public resource which means Key Stage 1 and EYSF children can now access online books too.

SEND

Mrs Ballett has created a new site for SEND (Special Educational Needs and Disability) which can be found linked on our website.

Here you will find useful information, videos and guides on a range of different areas. There will be more to come in the future, but Check it out here.

Maths Challenge

Each week on a Friday BBC Bitesize are setting a challenge, take a look at their page and see if you can solve the maths problems.

Picasso in Art

Mrs Ashall was delighted with the response to the Hands On project and over 50 responses were received and you can see some of those on the Art Home Learning page.

The next theme is Picasso with a range of activities and suggestions including some links to YouTube to find out more about the great artist.
